VILLAGE PEOPLE

Something is always slightly... off.

George Sorel Group Productions · Star Studded Realty Group · FL RE #SL3472560

THE CONCEPT

Scarlet Hanson — a masked, voice-changed, first-time real estate agent — built a televised game show exclusively to generate tree service leads. Three celebrity "assistants," all going by the alias David Deville, knock doors in Seminole County, do tree work in character, and sell houses under earpiece direction from a chip truck driver who may or may not be the executive producer. Something is always slightly off. The clients never figure out why.

THE MISSION

Move Seminole County's established empty-nesters — voluntarily, lucratively, joyfully — to The Villages: world-class geriatric care, bottomless retirement cocktails, street-legal golf carts. Their homes open to the next wave of Florida families. Scarlet gets tree clients. The Davids get charity money. The audience gets a show. Everyone wins.

PRODUCTION FORMAT

Camera: Body cameras only. No crew. Live feed to the office.

Control room: Scarlet + Star watch the feed; Scarlet directs via voice changer.

Prompts: Sissy Bestie sends real-time earpiece prompts — never seen, never heard.

Tempo: Dr. Neil deGrasse Tyson — Houston Command Center. Tracks velocity, speech rate & close speed per David. Keeps show equanimous: no segment too long or short. "Houston, we have a problem" = tempo deviation detected.

Episodes: Sprint (fastest close) · Slow Burn · Persuasion · The Trifecta

Prize structure: Network funds multipliers, gifts & charity disbursements.

Distribution: Pitching Netflix · HGTV · Discovery+ · Peacock

STRUCTURE OF ACCOUNTABILITY

Scarlet owns: Tactics — what they do, where, how the field runs.

Sissy owns: Operations — compliance, legal, prizes, production insurance.

Star ensures: Every RE transaction is FREC-compliant. She is culpable for Scarlet.

Netflix: Above everything. Format owner. Distribution. Final say.
